Disclaimer:
The item file update that you have requested does not qualify to be error free and/or duplicate free. When loading an update, the OPUS software attempts to match each item against an existing record in your database. New records are created only when an item cannot be matched to an existing record. This matching is done using information provided by the vendors.

Sometimes a vendor does not provide enough information to allow the software to accurately identify items. This may be due to a lack of UPC codes, unknown vendor abbreviations, or other factors that are beyond OPUS's control. In these cases, you may find that you have new items records that duplicate items already in your system.

OPUS, DDMS, and related DDMS companies must expressly reject and disclaim any representations, warranties, obligations, liability or responsibility for duplicated item records or product errors in your inventory, and for any losses or damage, including consequential damages, resulting from use of the duplicated or erroneous information. Nor can OPUS, DDMS, or related DDMS companies provide support on duplicated or erroneous item records, or on issues resulting from them.

What do I do next?
After filling out the appropriate information for BBS subscription, vendor selection, and signature on the disclaimer, fax this form to OPUS product sales at 682.831.9916 You will receive a fax of step-by-step instructions for your BBS account setup (if needed), vendor file download, and the item update program.
